May 3. MOONSHINE.

Lived 152 Years.

Wm. Parr—England's oldest man—married the third time at 120, worked in the fields till 132 and lived 20 years longer. People should be youthful at 80. James Wright, of Spurlock, Ky., shows how to remain young. "I feel just like a 16-year-old boy," he writes, "after taking six bottles of Electric Bitters. For thirty years kidney trouble made life a burden, but the first bottle of this wonderful medicine convinced me I had found the greatest cure on earth." They're a godsend to weak, sickly rundown or old people. Try them. 50c at all dealers.

STILLWATER.

I noticed a lot of people going to Campton today to attend Circuit court.

James Stamper, of the Stamper Branch neighborhood, was in this section yesterday.

Your correspondent has a severe attack of neuralgia and toothache, and a slight attack of la grippe at this writing.

May 3. SPRINGTIME.

There are a number of children in this neighborhood that have the whooping cough and it is going hard with some of them.

The heavy rains of last week did considerable damage to the farmers of this locality by washing out the freshly planted corn and newly sprouted grass, and carrying away a lot of fencing.

Last Friday Attorneys G. B. Stamper and S. G. Sample took depositions of Wm. Brewer, Sarah E. Brewer and Silas Coldiron, before S. C. Rose, notary public, in the case of William Brewer against Courtney Barker, now pending in Wolfe Circuit court.

Miss Ollie Swango started on horseback last Friday morning to visit her sister, Mrs. Cap Hurst, on Frozen, and after riding some distance discovered that the horse was lame in one foot. She stopped at Henry Spencer's blacksmith shop to have the foot examined, when the horse became frightened and rearing up fell over backward and broke his skull, killing him instantly. The animal was a good family horse and much admired by all the family.

May 3. DOMINGO.

Smashes all Records.

As an all-round laxative tonic and health-builder no other pills can compare with Dr. King's New Life Pills. They tone and regulate stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood, strengthen the nerves, cure constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, jaundice, headache, chills and malaria. Try them. 25c at all dealers.

STAMPER BRANCH.

Nelse Nickell sold a cow to Tom Stamper for $30.

James Stamper was a guest of Edgar Kash, at Landsaw, Sunday.

James Stamper has just completed a lot of new fencing on his farm.

Miss Julie Stamper visited at the home of Mrs. Nannie Stamper Friday.

Rhoda Clark, of Clark branch, was visiting on Stamper branch, recently.

Mrs. Will Stamper was a guest of Mort Stamper and family last Thursday.

Charlie Stamper was a guest of his sister, Mrs. Fannie Brooks, Tuesday night.

Mrs. Ellis Ratliffe was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hollon, Friday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hollon visited her daughter, Mrs. Nannie Stamper, last Thursday.

Miss Lillie Loyd and Leslie Stamper were guests of Mrs. Fannie Brooks Friday night.

Born, Saturday, May 1, on Laurel, to the wife of Charlie Hollon, a fine girl, Mrs. Lizzie Miller accoucheuse.

The infant child of Mort Stamper and wife, whose illness has been mentioned in these columns, is no better.

Mrs. Frances Stamper and two children, Greenberry and Ella May, were guests of her parents, Owen Coldiron and wife, Sunday.

A large number of sympathetic friends called during the week to see the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Mort Stamper, who is dangerously ill.

Quite a crowd from this place went to Campton today to attend opening of court. Among them we noticed Green, Tom, Drew and James Stamper, Lucy Clark and Willie Handy.

A large crowd attended the social given in honor of Miss Nettie Byrd, at the home of Curt Byrd, Saturday night. Fred Stamper, Reece and George Cox and Roy McNabb were among those who attended.

May 3. SUNSHINE.

LACY CREEK.

Newton Malone passed through here Sunday en route to Campton.

Miss Sarah Taylor, of Malaga, was visiting the family of her brother, Clint Taylor, recently.

The little child of Clint Taylor and wife, that has been sick for some time, is not expected to live.

Mrs. Emma Trimble was called to the bedside of her father, Uncle Jordan Wills, who is dangerously ill.

Mrs. Southey Lacy left several days ago for Stanton to visit her father, who is reported dangerously ill.

Misses Mallie Byrd and Nettie and Emma Cox, of Hazel Green, spent Sunday with Miss Rosa Trimble.

Mrs. Alice Creech and little son, Fielden, of Belva, Okla., were guests of Sebron Trimble and family Saturday night and Sunday.

Pearl Childers, of this place, left Monday morning for Muskogee, Okla., to make it his future home with his brother-in-law, Thomas L. Anderson.

May 3. BERTIE.

J. B. Hollon has about finished his timber job.

Miss Lulu Perkins was at Hazel Green Thursday.

J. B. Elkins had an old-fashioned log rolling Thursday.

Miss Ethel Johnson was visiting on our creek a few days.

Miss Flossie Lacy visited her aunt, Mrs. Forest Cecil, a few days.

Mrs. J. B. Hollon was at Hazel Green shopping Saturday afternoon.

Glenn Haney, of H. G. A., came up to his father's sawmill Wednesday afternoon.

Misses Flossie Lacy and Lennie and Iva Hollon called on Miss Mollie Lacy Sunday afternoon.

May 3. SMART SET.

Deafness Can Not Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedy. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube be restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

SANDFIELD.

Farmers in this section are very much behind on account of rain and high water.

Wick Childers, of Maytown, called on his father-in-law, J. B. McNabb, Sunday.

Mrs. W. A. Oldfield spent Sunday with the family of her father, James Robinson.

W. M. McNabb and Geo. Wheeler, of your town, were guests of J. J. Catron Sunday.

Aunt Rebecca Cox, who has been dangerously ill with consumption for some time, is no better.

Rev. Paul Derthick and Joseph Estep organized a Union Sunday school at Tolver last Sunday.

Misses Aquilla Haddix and Nannie Stamper were guests of Miss Nancy Catron one night recently.

Joseph Estep and Earl Stambaugh, of your town, and Troy Wilson, of Maytown, were guests at J. J. Catron's Sunday.

May 3. SUNSHINE.

CANNEL CITY.

Edgar Benton and C. E. Clark took in the ball game at Jackson Monday.

Maud Kilgore and Edna Lykins, of this place, spent Sunday in Jackson.

Misses Lula Nickell and Virginia Day spent Saturday and Sunday in our town visiting Mrs. Everett Bach.

The floods have damaged the Kentucky Block Cannel Coal Co. to the amount of from $1,000 to $1,500.

Prof. M. O. Carter and wife, of Hazel Green Academy, were guests of Prof. C. E. Clark over Thursday night.

Rev. Paul Derthick, of Jackson, attended the contests Thursday night and officiated as one of the judges.

Mrs. Q. C. Daniel, manager of the college dormitory at Hazel Green, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Byrd over Sunday.

Mrs. John Lyons, of this place, died last Saturday, leaving a husband and eight small children. She had a host of friends. The funeral services were conducted by Bro. O'Rourke. Our sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones.

The Cannel City Graded school closed out this week with a series of splendid programs. In the boys' declamatory contest Willie Faulkner carried off the medal, while Pearl Carter was successful in the girls' declamatory contest. The scholarship medal went to Miss Omer Gambill. Five girls were graduated from the graded course, namely, Omer Gambill, Willie Mae Watson, Esther Lykins, Mollie Kelly and Mary Stamper. The play entitled "The Deacon" received a good hearing, notwithstanding the fact that the weather was very inclement. The students acquitted themselves with honor on all occasions. Cannel City may well be proud of her talent.

May 3. ETHEL.

Won't Slight a Good Friend.

"If ever I need a cough medicine again I know what to get," declares Mrs. A. L. Alley of Beals, Me., "for, after using ten bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, and seeing its excellent results in my own family and others, I am convinced it is the best medicine made for coughs, colds and lung trouble." Every one who tries it feels just that way. Relief is felt at once and its quick cure surprises you. For bronchitis, asthma, hemorrhage, croup, la grippe, sore throat, pain in chest or lungs it's supreme. 50c and $1.00 Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all dealers.

The Frankfort Journal was recently purchased by Jas. B. Newman, who has arranged with ex-Governor J. C. W. Beckham to edit the same, so that old line Democrats in this State will at last have the satisfaction of reading a Democratic daily organ pure and undefiled. Under Mr. Beckham's management the Journal will be the exponent of Democracy in its truest sense. He is most thoroughly posted in politics and the affairs of state, and will be able to expose the "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain" to which the Republican party too frequently resorts. In brief its advent will be hailed with joy, and we predict that it will do much to purify politics in this state.

Following in the wake of other enterprising towns the trustees of Hazel Green have set apart Monday, the 10th inst., as a cleaning up day. Every householder is requested to clean up the street in front of the property he occupies, and a wagon will remove all rubbish. If all will take a proper interest in this matter our town will soon assume a different appearance and the citizens be less liable to disease. Let everyone do their duty.

We are proud to report there was a Sunday school organized at Toliver last Sunday by Rev. Paul Derthick, of Jackson, and Rev. F. Agar, of Gosneyville, with an attendance of 37. The people of Big Branch are also beginning to show an interest in Sunday school work. We trust they will not become discouraged, for there is nothing that will aid more in the building up of a community.

For Sale—Two of the Pieratt cottages for less than the lumber and lot can be bought. One acre in each lot; five rooms in each house. Apply at this office.

THE INDIAN'S SIDE AND A GREAT CHIEF'S DEATH

BY BUFFALO BILL
FROM TRUE TALES OF THE PLAINS

COPYRIGHT, 1908, BY WILLIAM F. COOK

As these short descriptions of events, deserving more extensive reference than possible here, are nearing a close and have covered a period with which his name is associated, it is fitting that the general reader should be given a little insight into the character of the famed Sioux Indian Sitting Bull. After remaining in Canada until his people were leaving him and returning to their reservations, having only a remnant of his immediate following and finally left, he himself consented to return under conditions that would be favorable to his followers, while he was assured of immunity from personal punishment.

He was wise enough to know that his absence was wearing many from obedience to his way, and martyrdom at a distance, he thought, was not as effective in retaining popularity and power as would be persecution under the eyes of his people.

He was of incorruptible loyalty to his people, a stickler for their treaty rights, a native politician who if schooled a little more in diplomacy and its concealment of designs would class him as the great Indian statesman.

In war his bitter opponent, in peace he won my friendship and sympathy. He impressed me as a deep thinker. Conscientious as to the proper rights to the lands of his fathers, he advanced arguments that were strong and convincing. His claim of primitive possessions for ages beyond the white man's coming, of the conditions being undisturbed for centuries and existing as the Great Manitou had ordained, the bountiful supplies he had furnished on land and in the waters, of wild fruit, wild fowl, wild cattle, abundance of wild horses, verdure to support them without the plowman's weary work—all furnished him an argument that the disturbance and compulsory change to its heirs of this legacy were arbitrary, unjust to the verge of what we would call sacrilegious interference with the Divine will.

He had all the old treaties in his head in the Indian legendary manner, also in hieroglyphics, but in writing and printed type he had an extract from the treaty of 1868 by which the Sioux reservation of Dakota was set apart "for the absolute and undisturbed use and occupation of the Indians and upon which no outsiders but government employees shall be allowed to pass, settle or reside."

Basing his case like a lawyer, he would introduce it as a silent witness, justifying his actions, and with keen eyes he would watch it carefully, so that it could not be tampered with, and while, of course, he could not read he had marks on this sacred totem that he was familiar with. His eagle eye would scan the face of the reader of it to see the effect, and on its return his face intimated strongly the triumph it gave him as a claimant to a clear title.

I will give a general idea of the old man's description of conditions, results and the power to him of some mysterious man that was invisible, being in the dark—away east:

That the white man at this time had taken most of the land, had destroyed or driven away the game and that the least he could do was to halt and leave Sioux people undisturbed, the white men representing the great father having in 1868 made the treaty to that effect. Others had arranged with them to build an "iron road," with a "horse that ate wood, breathed fire and smoke," to draw wagons and emigrants quickly across their country to Oregon, Washington and California, toward the setting sun. With pleasure they agreed. When this road was built it was only as wide as his outstretched arms, but the "man in the dark" had taken from them lands twenty miles in width for hundreds of miles.

The Indian could not cope with the mysterious, invisible man in the dark—away east.

His arguments, as I see them now, covered every one that the unselfish advocate of communal existence can advance, practicable when the so-called "civilized man" has become as contented as were the primitive children of prairie land and forest, but, lacking which, this survival of the fittest seems to decree the fate of the Indian and control the relative prosperity of the white. The fire horse caused prairie fires. His attendants increased until they came with shovel, spade and carpenter tools. They first erected teepees, got lonely and brought their squaws. Their friends soon came to join them, and soon wooden teepees were built and camps became villages and villages towns until cities were filled with crowds of people, such as Blamark, Mandan, etc. Then the "man in the dark" sold the land.

Later, when the crops failed and the lessee did not pay, he kicked the tenant out and resold the land. He took the money back in the dark toward the rising sun. If a poor man had no money he could not ride, but there was plenty of room; he had to walk—often to die by the roadside of hardships or starvation, if some Samaritan Indian did not feed him. The "man in the dark" never came there when he and his chief made complaints. No one was responsible. They were told to send letters or speak by the lightning to the "man in the dark," but he never answered. When the government treaties were broken a similar discourteous lack of consideration occurred. "My chiefs and me, who signed, were always here. The great father's beau men (General Harney and others) were not. They never returned. New white chiefs took their places, and every four years new great fathers took power and their men laughed at what their predecessors had done."

The breaking of treaties so frequently and the invasion of the Black Hills and other sections by the gold seekers, prospectors and trappers became the cause of constant irritation, leading to almost continual contests, raids and massacres. This condition had really brought on the war of 1875-6, resulting in the Custer fight as well as its many succeeding cleanups.

The forfeiture of the Black Hills and injudicious reductions of rations kept discontent alive. When in 1889 congress passed a law dividing the Sioux reservation into many smaller ones so as to isolate the different tribes or clans of the Dakota nation a treaty was submitted to their vote whereby by reinstating the cutoff rations and paying for ponies captured or destroyed in the '76 war and other certain conditions they ceded about one-half their land—11,000,000 acres. Fulfillment of conditions was delayed, postponed—forgotten, almost—by congress.

At this time, through some mysterious mountain phantom or trickster, the "medicine men" became easy victims of a craze. This was based on the assertion that the Messiah (the Manitou) was coming back on earth to use his miraculous power in favor of the red man to crush out the whites, to restore everything to the idealistic condition of former years, restock the ranges with big game, buffaloes, elk, deer, etc. This created a universal fanatical fervor, and not alone among the Sioux, but affected all Indians on this continent. Former foes became fast friends, and from the Yakus in old Mexico to the Alaskan tribes in the far north the religious ghost dance festivities fanned the flames of war. The "medicine men" preaching that the holy medicinal ghost shirts would protect the wearer, turn the white man's bullets, was accepted and made recruits by thousands to the cause. The dancing frightened the settlers, shocked the religious, philanthropic friends of the Indians and was officially ordered stopped. "Easy orders, eh?" Instead, if they had been allowed to dance, even if some did so to the death, ex-hatred, like a boiler's safety valve, and an afterthought might soon have made it appear to them in the ridiculous light that so effectively kills absurdities.

I was at the time in Alsace-Lorraine with my exhibition and had with me seventy-five traveled Indians. We had all the facts, and myself and partner decided to close, camp the rest of the party in an old castle near Strassburg (Benfeld) with a large domain, and I myself left by fast steamer via England for New York, while Major Burke, with the Indians as pacifiers, came via Antwerp and Philadelphia and hastened to the scene of strife.

The Indians brought home made a strong peace contingent at Pine Ridge, while I hastened, with General Miles' approbation, to visit Sitting Bull in person, feeling sure that my old enemy, and later friend would listen to my advice. The fact that I was willing to take the risk myself alarmed some well meaning philanthropists, who divined a sinister motive in my action, and those who were crying strongest for Sitting Bull's suppression now claimed that his person was endangered by the bloodthirsty voyager—I, the one who had everything to lose and nothing particular to gain. Going to a hostile camp of Indians, risking all on the card of friendship and man to man respect (willing to test the ghost dance shirt in fair individual, single handed way, perhaps, if pushed), but alone and above all desirous to save my red brother from a suicidal craze—they impressed President Harrison that it would create a war, ending in the death of Sitting Bull. So the commander in chief, the president, was constrained to act (afterward, in Indianapolis, to express regret for it to me personally), and my mission was countermanded at the threshold almost of the hostile camp. Sitting Bull's death and the Ghost Dance war followed.

Then came the army and the Indian agent. Left to himself, in conjunction with his coadjutor, the army officer, that most efficient and famous among the best Indian agents, Major James McLaughlin (now inspector), would have probably brought about a peaceful solution. But eastern meddlesome energy demanded action, action against this horrid religious innovation, and they forced the market by their innumerable and long distance fears.

All interested in my best belief were pushed, and Colonel Drum, commander at Fort Yates, and Major McLaughlin were ordered to co-operate to secure the person of Sitting Bull.

Henry Bull, lieutenant of Indian police, had intimated that the old chief was "preparing his horses for a long ride." Couriers were sent to tell him to quietly arrest Sitting Bull, and Major Edmund G. Fatchet of the Eighth cavalry and a Hotchkiss gun were sent to support him.

After a hard ride, just at dawn they saw a man coming at full speed on Sitting Bull's favorite white horse (a Kentucky charger I had presented him three years before), whom they found to be an Indian policeman with the report of a fight—"All police killed!" Riding like mad, they arrived to find some Indian police still fighting from Sitting Bull's cabin, being surrounded on all sides.

Volley after volley was poured in unexpectedly on the besiegers, and a few shells from the Hotchkiss gun scattered them, and the beleaguered were relieved. They had reached Sitting Bull's cabin at 5 a. m., surrounded it, and, capturing the old chief in bed, arrested him. While dressing, his son, Crowfoot, alarmed the camp. Bull harangued his friends, frenzied by the thought, no doubt, that his own tribesmen were his captors, not feeling that respect for them he would have had for the military.

Catch-the-Bear and Strike-the-Kettle dashed in and fired, hitting Bull Head in the side, who fired and killed Sitting Bull. The latter firing as he fell, Shave Head was shot in the abdomen, and all three fell together. The fight became general until the arrival of Major Fatchet and several police, and many ghost dancers were killed, they not having time to utilize their shirts. Thus was ended the life of the chief whose faults and virtues will long be a subject of discussion, but who will always stand as a great red chief of the Juncapapa Sioux—Sitting Bull.

I returned to Nebraska and was ordered by Governor Thayer, being a brigadier general on his staff, to join the Nebraska national guard with General Colby and entered the field at Pine Ridge, placing the militia in position to assist in surrounding the hostiles. Then I joined General Miles as advisory scout, Frank Guard being at headquarters, and used my personal influence to pacify the Indians. Through Major General Miles' stern measures and at the same time his diplomatic methods the greatest planned of Indian uprisings was quickly suppressed through the bloody battles of Wounded Knee and the Mission, so as to make it the very last possible struggle of the red man, the finale of all Indian wars.

I had the satisfaction at least of attending the final ceremonies and, with a score of my old commanders and many comrades of the sixties, seventies and eighties, was on hand to welcome the era of good will to each other, clasp hands in friendship and smoke the pipe of peace in brotherhood forever between the white man and the red.

MISS FALAY LONG,

Hazel Green, Ky.

John Williams, captain of the H. G. A. base ball team has challenged Stanton, Clay City, Winchester, Frenchburg and Booneville to a match game to be played here. The latter two teams will play here during commencement, anyhow, and the Alumni nine will play the Varsity nine on the Hazel Green's diamond on the 26th inst.

"The local team expects to meet the Hazel Green boys on the diamond here soon. But it will be Hazel Blue boys after the game."—Agitator.

After the game is over Frenchburg boys will look as if they had eaten indigo while practicing.

Dr. Taylor Center reports the birth of a boy to the wife of Nath Patrick, of Daysboro, Saturday, May 1.

A Rare Opportunity.

I offer for sale my residence, consisting of seven-room cottage, good lot and garden, and outbuildings. One of the most desirable locations in Hazel Green. Also my blacksmith and general repair shop, which is superior to anything of the kind in the country, being furnished with a complete outfit of tools and stock of materials and supplies; also equipped with power and machinery. Will sell all together or separately. For further particulars call on or address, JOHN H. ROSE, Hazel Green, Ky.

POLLY of the CIRCUS

By MARGARET MAYO
Copyright, 1908, by Dodd, Mead and Company

Here is a circus romance redolent of the fresh sawdust of the ring, vibrant with the incessant clamor of the band, panoramic in its ever moving display of clowns, acrobats, horses and captive wild animals. You will read of Polly, the daughter of the circus, and of Bingo, on whose broad back she rode; of the "leap of death" girl; of "Muvver Jim," the boss canvasman, and Toby, the clown, who loved the circus orphan and cared for her like father and mother; of Deacon Strong, who hated a circus, and of Rev. John Douglas, who grew to love a circus girl. You will read of gossip that threatened to divide a pastor and his flock, of Ruth and Naomi, of a show girl's renunciation and of Polly's first and last ride on Barbarian, the circus horse.

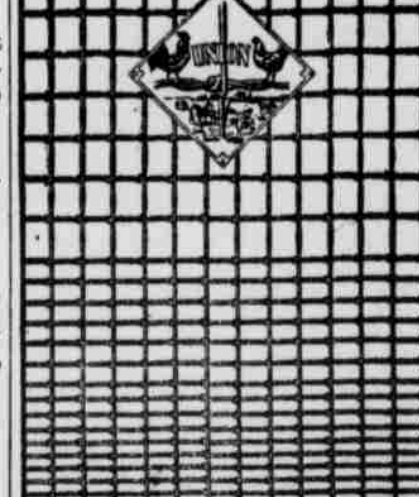

This intensely interesting story will shortly begin in THE HERALD and you should subscribe now to get the opening chapters.

THE HERALD.

DRINK WAINSCOTT'S ROMA KOLA

Miss Mary Miller, of Stillwater, was in town shopping Tuesday.

A hack load of the belles of Hazel Green attended the ball game at Jackson Monday.

WANTED—A bushel or two of potato onions and a peck of onion sets. Apply at this office.

W. A. Bryant, of Lee City, was in Hazel Green Tuesday, and sold a horse to Ellis Johnson for $100.

John M. Rose and son, Chas. M. Rose, left Saturday to attend the Richmond County court Monday.

Roe Nickell, of Grassy creek, passed through here Monday morning to attend the Campton Circuit court.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Dr. Dan Kash, of Campton, was the guest of his brother, Sam Kash, and left Tuesday morning for Jackson.

Butler Hughes and wife, nee Nevada Nickell, of Pomeroyton, are visiting Mrs. Hughes' father, Dr. A. C. Nickell.

Miss Nettie Phipps, a daughter of Boone Phipps, the photographer of Demond, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Clark Cecil, this week.

Miss Bertie Cecil and her sister were in town this week and bought one of Mapel & Troy's beautiful creations from their last line of hats received.

Kelly Kash, commonwealth's attorney, visited his brother, Sam Kash, and family Sunday, and Monday left for Campton to be at his post of duty when Circuit court opened.

WANTED—A woman to cook, wash and iron for three people—a good home and better wages than anybody in town pays, to one who will do the work all right. Apply at this office.

Jeff Phillips, who lives with his father, J. Hile Phillips, near Public Square, has been confined to his home for several months with some pulmonary trouble, and is growing weaker every day from a continuous cough.

It was rumored here Monday that the bridge across the Licking river at West Liberty had washed away in the flood of Thursday and Friday, but it did not, as travel between this point and West Liberty is uninterrupted.

Mapel & Troy, the elite milliners, have just received another consignment of beautiful hats. Do not fail to see this selection, as there will surely be something to appeal to your artistic taste in the trimmings, shapes and pattern hats.

Kelly Cox, who has been a student at the academy for several terms, left Monday for Muskogee, Okla., where he will make his future home. It was said a few days since that Pearl Childers, a son of Hoy Childers, would accompany Kelly, as he was going to the same point.

Jackson vs. Hazel Green.

The base ball game at Jackson Saturday between the Jackson nine and our own home team, resulted in a most glorious victory for the Hazel Green boys, the score being 13 to 1 in favor of the latter. The ladies from here who attended the game say that the Jackson boys could not play a little bit, but all agree that they had a pleasant time, the inclement weather to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Jackson team said they expected Hazel Green to bring men and not boys, but when the boys began work they found them small in stature but large in base ball lore, and surprise was depicted upon the countenance of many of that team, which included a professional, a Pittsburger and a blue grass preacher. Their nine was composed of men, 'tis true, but they had lost or mislaid their vitality, as it was not visible. All of our home team did valiantly, while Williams and Morris were the best on the battery line. The Jackson team will play a return game here in the near future and it is hoped they will make a better showing.

Yes, indeed, it was sweet,
But 'twas not bitter
For H. G. A.'s to see the ball
And none fail to hit her.

Rose-Rose.

Married, Sunday, May 2, at the residence of the bride's parents, Joe Cecil and wife, near Ezel, Jeff M. Rose, of Lacy Creek, this county, and Mrs. Bessie Cecil Rose, Rev. John Wilson performing the ceremony.

It is the second matrimonial venture of each of them. She is the widow of Will Rose, deceased, without issue, and the groom has five children by his wife who died about five years ago. About 40 of their especial friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony and extended congratulations, and THE HERALD now wishes them all the joys of a happy married life.

May their lives be as happy
As on the second day of May,
And their honeymoon continue
Blissful until next groundhog day.

Accommodating Neighbors.

Our better seven-eighths has been under the weather for a week or ten days, ye editor man doing much of the cooking and dishwashing. But some of good neighbor ladies, viz: Mrs. Lula Kash and Mrs. Emma Evans, have helped wonderfully by sending us freshly baked bread. The former sent us a large panful of muffins, a loaf of light bread and some pepper pickles stuffed, while the latter baked us a panful of nice biscuits. As the editor never learned the art of making bread, their kindness is doubly appreciated and they have our sincere thanks.

A Correction.

Ben Patrick, who was shot, and reported as dying almost instantly, in THE HERALD two weeks ago, is now said to be improving rapidly, and may recover. The young man, Wages, who shot him, is hiding out as a fugitive from justice. It now appears that another young man named Rudd was implicated in the difficulty, and that he and Wages had plotted to kill Patrick and brought on the difficulty with a view to that end. The affair happened in Breathitt county, and not in Wolfe, as was implied in the first notice we made of the drunken frolic.

Beach Hargis Case.

The jury in the case of Beach Hargis, who was tried at Irvine last week, brought in a verdict of guilty with a sentence of imprisonment for life. It was expected by the friends of Hargis that he would be acquitted or there would be another hung jury. It is believed that the verdict is largely due to his conduct in Breathitt county during the few weeks he was out on bond. Four of the jurors were Estill county men and eight were from Madison county. A motion for a new trial was made and overruled, and Judge Adams ordered Hargis to be taken to the penitentiary at once to begin serving his sentence.

Several of our citizens, including Sam Kash, C. F. Kash, Forest Cecil, John Kash and Judge Geo. Wheeler attend court at Campton Monday. John Kash is on the grand jury and Forest Cecil on the regular jury.

R. J. McLin Sunday afternoon received a telegram from Rose Hill, notifying him that his brother, White, had lost his wife and child by death from poisoning, it is thought, and he left Monday to condole with his brother.

Frank Duke, whom many of our home readers will remember, has lost his mind, and is now confined in an asylum at Tulsa, Oklahoma, we believe, while his wife, nee Maggie Amyx, is helpless in a hospital at the same place.

W. A. Parsley with Mendel, Winestock & Co., G. B. Eversole with Carter Dry Goods Co., and Frank McDonald with the Kentucky Clothing Co., all Louisville houses, were registered at the Day House Tuesday and Wednesday.

Henry Gillaspie left Tuesday morning with Ellis Johnson's two-horse hack for Beattyville, where he met C. V. White, president of the West Virginia School Furniture Co., with whom he will tour the surrounding country for about thirty days.

Mrs. Couch, wife of K. M. Couch, of Grassy creek, was very dangerously ill last week, and Friday Dr. A. C. Nickell was called to see her. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Henry A. Murphy, of Murphy fork, was with her last week, and for aught we know is still nursing her.

A private letter from Tallega, in Lee county, conveys the news that they have a trolley line 50 feet high across South Fork, which carries several tons of plank at a load. Also, that M. B. T. Adams, who is teaching school near that place, had the misfortune to lose, or sweep into the fire, a roll of paper money. Duck does not give the amount.

CAMPTON.

Mrs. Crockett Miller is very low with pneumonia.

Sam Kash, of your town, attended court here Monday.

R. H. Patton, cashier of Hazel Green Bank, was here Tuesday on business.

Kelly, Willie and Daniel Kash, of Jackson, are visiting home folks at this place.

Miss Maggie Combs, of Stillwater, has been visiting in our town for several days.

Miss Grace Smith returned from Stillwater Thursday, where she had been visiting the family of I. W. Combs.

Samuel J. Elkins, one of leading citizens of our town, will move to Texas in a few days, where he expects to be cashier of a bank.

Mrs. D. B. Redwine, who has been visiting with her father, W. L. Hurst, for the past three weeks, returned Saturday to her home in Jackson.

Last Friday morning the heavy rains washed out the Mountain Central railroad from the top of the Whittleton hill to the Junction. The washout is causing an inconvenience to our merchants who have goods at Campton Junction and can't get them until the road is fixed.

Circuit court began at this place last Monday. The instructions of Judge Adams were such that if the officers of the county, together with the commonwealth's attorney and jury, would come together for good, Wolfe county would soon be rid of violators of the law, and our progressive farmers, instead of putting locks on their barn or crib doors, or on their dwellings, could leave them open, go where they wanted to and find everything safe on their return.

Poe's Ambidextrous Hoax.

Many traditions and stories of Edgar Allan Poe are still current at the University of Virginia, at Charlottesville, where he was a student.

Poe was very proud of his penmanship. One day, so the story goes, a friend entered the room to find Poe writing busily, with both hands.

"What are you doing?" asked the friend.

"Writing with both hands," said Poe.

"Both hands!" exclaimed the friend. "But how on earth can you make any progress in that way?"

"Easy enough. It is a theory of mine that it is a waste of time not to be able to use both hands at the same time. Both hands and brains may be trained, with care and attention, so that each hand may do its full share of work—each hand being employed on a separate task. It is not really an affair of the hands at all, in the last analysis, but an affair of the intellect. I am training my hands and brains now so that I can do twice as much work as the ordinary person in a given period of time. At the present moment, I am writing a poem with my right hand; one that I confidently believe will startle the world. And with my left hand I am blocking out a wonderful story; a story which should capture thousands of readers.

"It will only be a short time before I will be able to take my examinations in this manner, and dispose of two subjects simultaneously. It will save time, and will give hands and brain their full duty." —James Bernard Lyon, in Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine

The H. G. A. boys and girls desire to express their thanks through THE HERALD for the courtesies shown them by the proprietor of the hotel at which they enjoyed a fine dinner, and to the ball team, all of whom are perfect gentlemen, also to the umpire, who did his duty with perfect fairness. We shall always owe our gratitude to the good people of Jackson at large.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

KENTUCKY KERNELS

Carefully Collated and Concisely Chronicled.

Monroe Porter, colored, was fatally shot by John Morris as the result of a quarrel over a crap game at Jackson.

Mt. Sterling is at last to have a new passenger station. The C. & O. railroad company has purchased the Chiles-Thompson building lot on Maysville street and will begin work on the new building about July 1.

Martin Kelly, aged 50 years, a demented prisoner in the Louisville hold-over, cut his throat with an old rusty razor, severing the jugular vein, and bled to death. He was in San Francisco at the time of the earthquake and lost his mind through fright.

Topics touching every phase of state development were discussed by representative business men gathered from all sections in the Kentucky State Commercial convention held recently in Louisville. Nearly every county in the state sent representatives to the convention.

While trying to recover his cap which had fallen into the waters of Big Spring, at Georgetown, Julian Leach, aged six years, lost his balance and fell in. His 10-year-old sister jumped in to save him, but was not strong enough. Robert Jones happened along and saved both of them.

A new steel bridge is to be built jointly by Clark and Montgomery counties across Lulbegrud creek on the Kiddville pike. The ford is one of the most dangerous in the state and many people have had narrow escapes from drowning at that point. The creek is the dividing line between the counties.

Two small boys by the name of Burgy and one by the name of Nickell were badly burned while playing about a gas well in Menifee county. It is said that from some cause the strong flow of gas became ignited, setting fire to the boys' clothing. Two of them will lose their eyesight.

A peculiar circumstance to happen to one man twice in a lifetime and never to any one that we ever heard of is peculiar indeed. Forty-four years ago J. W. Darnell and wife, at their home, known as Little Rocky, placed a hen and fifteen chickens in a low place in the yard, and then went some distance away to attend to other matters. They heard the hen making a noise and saw their bunch of sheep with heads together just where they had placed their chickens. Fearing that their chickens would be trampled to death they scared the sheep away, but not a chicken could they find nor was one ever found. Mr. D. always told it that the sheep ate the chickens, though that being so unreasonable he quit telling it except when requested. His old friend (Lawyer) Bill Denton told him once in a crowd that it was the biggest lie he ever heard any man tell. However, the same thing happened again in his yard this spring, only it was one sheep this time and only two chickens, but has an eye-witness, Mrs. Charles Darnell, who saw the sheep eat the last chicken. Now Mr. D. says if any one doubts the truthfulness of this (or either) if they will furnish the chickens freshly hatched and bring them to his house, if the sheep don't eat the chickens he will. —Odessa cor, Owensville Outlook.

If you want a fine razor—as good as you can buy for $2—call this at office and get one for $1. We also have a few watches, good time keepers, that can be had for $1 each. Don't wait until supply is gone.

Stomach Distress.

Every family here ought to keep some Diapiesin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of Indigestion or Stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour stomach five minutes after taking.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of Indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin and take one triangle after supper tonight. There will be no sour rindings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or Intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for all stomach misery, because it will take hold of your food and digest it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Actual, prompt relief for all your stomach misery is at your Pharmacist, waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to cure a case of Dyspepsia or Indigestion

Don't Worry

If you are sick, don't worry, but begin at once to make yourself well. To do this, we but repeat the words of thousands of other sufferers from womanly ills, when we say:

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

For 50 years, this wonderful female remedy, has been benefiting sick women. Mrs. Jennie Merrick, of Cambridge City, Ind., says: "I suffered greatly with female trouble, and the doctors did no good. They wanted to operate, but I took Cardui, and it made me feel like a new woman. I am still using this wonderful medicine, with increasing relief."
